Current Comment

By R. H. K.

The opinions (if any) expressed herein, are not necessarily those of The Campbell Press.

The wanton, destructive hoodlumism of some members of our local "younger set" was pretty thoroughly manifested Saturday night by the indiscriminate ice-pick puncturing of tires on cars parked about the business district of town. It is irritating enough to have some dim-witted prankster let the air out of one's tires through the valves; when they stab a tire two, three, and four times with a knife or ice-pick just out of pure, unadulterated meanness, it's downright aggravating. And that's putting it mildly, and only because the paper won't let me swear.

A robbery (also Saturday night — see column 3, this page) which temporarily deprived this writer of a bit of highly regarded property is still another and sad enough commentary on the lack of a well-developed sense of right and wrong evidently prevalent among too many of the young men and boys of this town. A list, naming boys and youths of Campbell who have been in trouble—and I mean bad trouble—would be long—much too long for the size of the town. These youngsters are familiar to local officers, who, after all, can do little but apprehend them occasionally and haul them into juvenile court. Whatever the court does is apparently inadequate, for some of them are two—and even three time losers. So we'll have to look a bit farther for a goat.

Isn't it just possible that the adult contingent of the community may be partially to blame? I think so, definitely. Because, for one thing, we have failed to provide an inclusive recreational program for our youth of all ages. And where recreation and reasonable supervision are not—or cannot be—provided in the individual home, it becomes the duty of the community to see that such recreation and supervision are provided. True enough, we have the Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls; but I don't believe that program is sufficiently inclusive, with all due respect to its leaders, and there seems to be little question but that it's an expensive program from the viewpoint of those who contribute to its support.

What we really require here is a recreational center with attractions for all groups, a center that would operate the year around,and provide a program that would keep the kids off the streets and give our numerous underprivileged boys and girls a place to go and something interesting to do under sympathetic supervision. It would cut down the potential "headed for the pen" list tremendously; it has worked elsewhere, in more vicious environments than this. Why not here?

Helen Payne Is Bride of William C. Wigglesworth

In a simple but impressive ceremony performed by Dr. C. S. Knight at the beautiful Fig Tree Inn, on Bucknall road, Helen Lucile Payne and William C. Wigglesworth were united in marriage at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Sept. 9.

Perley B. Payne, Sr., father of the bride, gave his daughter into the groom's keeping. Mrs. William Glenn Curtis (Carol Payne) was her sister's attendant, and P. E. Wigglesworth, Jr., the only brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride wore a gown of soldier blue, and her accessories, except white gloves, were of the same shade of blue. She wore a corsage of gardenias.

The matron of honor wore black and her corsage was bright pink sweet peas.

After the ceremony refreshments were served, the bride cutting the beautiful wedding cake made by her close friend Mrs. Jack Griffith (Jessie Silberbauer) of Los Gatos.

Relatives and close friends present to witness the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Perley B. Payne, Sr., parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Wigglesworth, Sr., of Santa Cruz, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Wigglesworth and son of Fresno; Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Greeley of San Francisco; Mrs. A. Y. Hoag; Mr. and Mrs. George C. Payne; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Curtis; Mrs. Maude S. Witherspoon; Mrs. M. Scheller; Miss Diane Hauk, Miss Louise Payne, J. H. Payne, Perley B. Payne, Jr., Ruth Payne, and Howard Payne.

The bride is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Payne, pioneers of Santa Clara county, and was born in Campbell and educated in the Campbell schools. She is a member of Ada Rebekah lodge and The Footlighters of Campbell.

Mr. Wigglesworth was born in Fresno and educated in the Santa Cruz schools. He attended San Jose State college, majoring in commerce.

After a honeymoon spent in Oregon, the couple will return to their new home at 1554 Keesling avenue, where they will be after Sept. 16.

MRS. SUTTER LEAVES FOR FUNERAL OF MRS EDITH WILLITS

Mrs. Charlotte Sutter left this morning for Modesto to attend funeral services for her sister Mrs. Edith Duncan Willits whose sudden death from a heart attack occurred Tuesday evening.

The Duncan family was among the earliest residents of Campbell and Mrs. Willits was a charter member of the Congregational church. She was a sister of the late Frank Duncan,, resident of Johnson avenue for many years.

Housebreaker Calls at Second Street Home

Saturday night between 5:15 and 12:15, while the family was away, the R. H. Knappen home on North Second street was entered by prowlers. The loot, consisting of two modern and comparatively valuable pistols, and two others, a cap-and-ball weapon valued as a keepsake and a .25 calibre "suicide special," were recovered the following morning.

Circumstances of the recovery led police to believe the robbery the work of a youthful "gang," for the whereabouts of the guns was made known in a note addressed to Nightwatchman Frank Weeks and found Sunday morning under the door of a local store. Two possibilities are: that two or more youths were implicated, one of them later regretting the action and notifying authorities; that a very young boy did the trick and was apprehended by his parents who took a roundabout means of restoring the property to its owner.

According to Knappen, who favors the latter explanation of a rather peculiar situation, there is, to the best of his knowledge, only one youngster in town who would know exactly where to lay his hands on the pistols in a darkened house. It would be difficult to prove, however, and while officers are pursuing their investigation it seems doubtful that the young criminal or criminals will be apprehended.

"That's the second time one of those pistols has been stolen," Knappen told the Press. "I'm getting a bit weary of it all, and the next guy who tries it is going to get the surprise of his life."

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott and Quito Scott spent the Labor day week end with their brother Loren Scott, and wife in Madera. The party was among the dove hunters who reported good hunting results.

Last Rites For Ella B. White Held Tuesday

Mrs. Ella B. White, mother of Mrs. Nellie C. Rutherford and grandmother of David F. Rutherford, passed away Saturday at her home in San Jose.

Services were held Tuesday morning from the Rutherford funeral home here. She had been deeply interested in the establishment of the mortuary and it was very fitting that last rites were held there.

Mrs. White had been a resident of California for 32 years, 21 of them in San Jose. She was 83 years of age and a native of Ohio.

A member of the Seventh Day Adventist church, she was a deeply religious woman. Three elders of the church, T. L. Copeland, A. E. Place and J. D. Haynes conducted the services.

Interment was in the Mountain View cemetery in Oakland.

Other surviving relatives are a son-in-low, Charles H. Moates of San Jose, another grandson, Harold W. Moates of Modesto and a granddaughter, Alice Griffiths of San Jose.

Pall bearers were B. F. Kenney, J. H. Custer, W. W. Withrow, O. L. Braner, John Rahilly of Santa Cruz and Francisco de Lamos of Palo Alto.

Songs and music for the service were by Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Morton and Mrs. Rosalie Graves, all of San Jose.

An election will be held Monday, Sept. 16 in the Campbell Union grammar school for selection of three members for the board of the Campbell Sanitary Sewer district, and for the assessor for the same district.

The polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m. with J. W. Knowles, Mrs. Jeanett Grizzle and Mrs. Lillian Frazer composing the election board.

Incumbents whose terms are expiring have filed for re-election.

Fire District Taxes Reduced

E. C. Merrill, secretary of the Campbell Fire district, has been informed by the county auditor, that the tax rate for this district will be reduced 18.8 cents from last year's rate.

This will mean a saving of $1,200 to the taxpayers of the fire district.

The reduction has been made possible by a considerable increase in the assessed valuation and also by a balance of $1,100 carried over from last year.

The present valuation in the district is $635,100, an increase of $111,040 over the assessed valuation of last year.

One new territory was added to the district the past year and several others have petitioned to join and will be accepted as soon as the legal requirements have been completed.

F. F. A. Members Attend State Fair

Future Farmers of Campbell Union high school returned recently from attending the state fair at Sacramento.

Six members of this chapter participated in the activities of the fair. They were Richard Todd, Frank Johnson, Donald Warning, Dean Peterson, Clarence Walker, and Renso Orsi.

Todd and Johnson exhibited livestock with some good success. Todd had 11th junior sow in the Hampshire hog class and Johnson with his Hampshire herd won first and second, senior sows; third junior boar, fourth and sixth, junior sows, and third, young herd. Peterson assisted Johnson in showing his herd.

Johnson was also awarded the State Farmer Key by Governor Olson. He was among 87 outstanding boys from over 11,000 Future Farmer members in the state to win this coveted award.

Warning and Walker participated in Camp Lilliard, a Future Farmer camp conducted at the fair each year, and Orsi played in the State F. F. A. band which led the million dollar livestock parade before the grand stand in one of the outstanding features of the fair.

HIGH SCHOOL PLANT READY FOR BUSINESS

Under the careful supervision of Charles De Selle, chief custodian of Campbell Union High school, the buildings and grounds have been well-groomed for the opening of school Monday.

Students will find few changes in the interior of the beautiful buildings, but the grounds themselves have come along way toward perfection this summer. Head Gardener Ray Johnson and his aide, Vernon Murty, have spared no effort to have the lawns, flowers, and shrubs at their very best for opening day. And it will be conceded by all who have seen the plant recently that their efforts have not been misdirected. These two young men and the "big boss" deserve a lot of credit for making the local high school grounds among the most attractive in this part of the state.

Nor have they neglected the needs of the athletes, for by careful feeding, watering and cutting, the gridiron turf is rapidly approaching the eak of perfection. The boys who "carry the ball" for Campbell are going to appreciate a nice place to fall down on this year, no fooling. (Strictly off the record, this writer knows a San Jose High athletic coach who drives down by the Campbell plant at least one evening a week. He just parks his car there and has a good cry.)

Robert Snow Not To Blame For Auto Collision

Robert G. Snow, South First street, was absolved of blame for an accident May 10 for which Samuel J. Drew of Santa Cruz claimed $400 in personal and property damages.

Judge A. H. Bell, sitting for Judge J. D. Blaine, found Snow not guilty of failure to stop at the entrance to an arterial, the intersection of Hamilton and Johnson.

Snow was entering the intersection from Hamilton and turning south and Drew was travelling south on the highway when the collision occurred.

Highway Patrolman War-McGrury was present to testify.

KICK-OFF

The gridiron season is upon us, that time of year when sleek, brown pigskins go whirling through the blue autumnal sky, when mighty shock troops charge and crash against enemy lines on the greensward and dust of a thousand paying fields, when spectators by the hundreds of thousands gather in holiday mood to view spine-tingling battles between two and wenty warriors.

Football has become much more than a game. It is an American pageant as well. It is not only the charge of turf-slashing fullbacks pounding through the line, or passes zipping like bullets across the goal into the arms of a receiver for a breath-taking touchdown play. Football season also means gayly uniformed bands playing, stands packed with the eye-filling colors of pom-poms and the emblazoned garb of rooters, flashing sleight of hand stunts creating giant pictures from cards in the hands of a thousand performers, mass drills serpentining over the gridiron, weaving by their formation, letters upon the green.

The eleven are deployed on the field ready for action A play flattens himself on the ground to hold the leather ovel. The kicker measures, with his eye, the distance to the waiting ball. The referee's whistle blows and the stands grow alert. It's kick-off time, and the pigskin parade is on the march across the lend from Bangor to Calexico.

SCIENTIFIC SHOPPING

The alert housewife can do a great deal toward making budget dollars stretch — and toward keeping merchants on their toes in trying to out-serve each other.

A recent issue of Consumer's Guide a publication of the Department of Agriculture, offers the housewife some excellent shopping advice. It is certainly simple and obvious. Here are a few of the suggestions:

1. Plan before you market — check supplies in your larder and left-overs in your refrigerator.
2. Shop around and compare prices —watch the newspapers for specials
3. Always buy by grade whenever possible Grades are your guarantee of the quality you want and pay for.
4. Be sure that the scales in any store you patronize carry the seal that shows they have been inspected and approved by your weights and measures official.
5. Look for the net weight on packaged foods. Compare the cost per ounce of different brands and containers to determine which is the better buy. Be on your guard against off-sized packages.
6. Take home the trimmings. Scraps trimmed from your meat purchases can be profitably used in various ways

A buying public which makes its marketing tours with its eyes open, and with the basic knowledge that enables it to buy to the best advantage, can't be easily exploited. Scientific shopping helps stimulate competition between all kinds of stores—chain and independent, variety stores, super-markets and all the rest—to the end that the housewife gets more for her money.

AGRICULTURE ON THE ALERT

Organized agriculure is awakening to the dangers that confront our American institutions—and our American liberties.

At the recent annual meeting of an organization which represents the principal farm marketing cooperatives of the nation, speaker after speaker emphasized the need for eternal vigilance—lest dictatorship take root here.

Agriculture is wise to be thus alert to a menace that shadows the world of today. The farmer here is a free agent —an individualist, the master of his destiny. The farmer in the dictator-ridden nations is simply a powerless and exploited serf.

Agricultuural marketing cooperation is a fine example of individualism. Such a movement is possible only in a land where freedom is the watchword.

STAY ON GUARD

In a recent address, Colonel C. B. Robbins of the American Life convention, referred to the TNEC investigation of life insurance and the efforts of some to utilize it as a means of furthering federal control of the industry. But, he said, the ultimate result has been to reassure the 65,000,000 people who own life insurance policies of the safety of their investments.

"The insertion of a plank in the platform of each major party this year, strongly favoring state supervision," he added, "is indicative of the attitude of the leaders of both parties as to he whole life insurance situation."

The danger of bureaucratic dominance of the savings of the people seems as a result, to have been temporarily avoided But the people should remain staunchly on guard against political control of their savings.

CONSTITUTION DAY

The Constitution of the United States, ratified on Sept. 17, 1787, by the Constitutional Convention, reaches its 153rd year next week.

As citizens we can, and should, feel proud of that record. Few if any nations, have had as their guiding star a constitution so firmly rooted in the cause of representative government, aud yet flexible enough to match the growth of a nation over a c entury and a half from a little cluster of 13 states to a continent-spanning republic. In the 153 years since that historic day in Convention Hall, Philadelphia, great changes have swept this land Many of them were wrought by the pathfinders, fortune hunters, settlers, and builders of inland empires dauntlssly moving west of the Appalachians and beyond the rolling Mississippi, pushing into the Northwest territory, pouring over the Oregon t rail, advancing into the midwestern plains and into the sweeping rangelands of the southwest, streaming down across the Rockies into the valleys of E l Dorado, searching for gold, for land, for opportunity. Yet nearly all were bearers of the faith in representative government, in aggressive self-reliance, and in the freedom that the Constitution and its Bill of Rights eloquently championed.

In a world rocked with catasphrophic changes, let us remember that our constitution is one of the oldest in the whole world. Neither wars, civil or foreign, have shaken or altered it. Nor will they ever, if the source of our constitution's strength remains true and unwavering. That source — a n d t h a t strength — both lie in the heart and mind of every citizen.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR
Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

Next January, when the state legislature convenes for its 1941 session, the state administration will, w i t h o u t doubt, demand the enactment of new taxes, or increases in the rates of existing taxes.

At first glance, that may seem like a rash prediction, but actually it is almost a certainty.

Governor Olson, during the special sessions of the legislature earlier this year, demanded $50,000,000 in new taxes. He was turned down, but resented the turn-down bitterly, as evidenced by his repeated statements s i n c e that the legislature did not act in good faith in denying him new tax sources.

Anticipating a request for new revenues and new taxes at the start of the New Year, perhaps it would be well to look over the records for the past fiscal year—the last period on which accurate totals are available.

During the last fiscal year, the state treasury collected in taxes and turned into the general fund $173,467,130.

That was $6,843,725 more than the year previous.

Yet despite this considerable increase in income, California, today, is $30,975,882 worse off than it was twelve months ago.

The general fund deficit has reached an all-time high of $82,110,558, and the debt is growing by leaps and bounds!

California farmers, who are among the state's heaviest taxpayers, have reason to study that record. For despite a heavy increase in state tax collections, the state deficit increased even more sharply.

Perhaps, you say, it is due to relief t o the aged, or the needy ,or an increase in elementary school costs, but such is not the case; these costs were less than in the previous year.

The increases, during the last twelve months, have been in what might be termed the normal functions of government. And this, despite the fact that California, with the nation at large, has faced the fact that it must pay heavy increases in federal taxes to defray the cost of the national defense program.

There is no reason for beating about the bush. The plain facts are that bureaucracy has been thriving in California at the same time that the individual citizen, whether a farmer or a city worker, has been having a hard time to make ends meet. The plain facts are that where economy should reign, waste rules. The plain facts are that payrolls have been expanded in state service, without regard to the ability of the taxpayer to pay for new governmental frills and increased governmental services.

It is high time that the spenders of state funds changed their tune.

The state collected nearly seven millions of dollars more last year than it collected the year before. Yet California wind up deeper in the red than ever before.

There is only one commonsense way to strike a balance between income and outgo, under the circumstances. And that is to cut expenses; to cut budgets. That may be old fashioned, but certainly it is the only way out for taxpayers already burdened with exorbitant tax payments and debt.

California, like its citizens just simply has to learn to live within its income. Most of us learned that lesson long ago; we hope our state government learns it before January.

POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Speaker Gordon Garland of the Assembly, who headed Governor Olson's "p u r g e" list—but romped home easy winner at the primary election—is a heavy odds favorite to win a second term as presiding officer of the House when the state legislature convenes for its 1941 session in January.

But the Olson forces, according to gossip along the political Rialto, are still out after his scalp!

Reports are current that the Governor's men, in an effort to unseat the Tulare county assemblyman are passing the word around the Olson minority in the assembly might be induced to back a Republican for speaker — if the boys would agree to dump Mr. Garland.

Several Republican leaders who have had speakership ambitions in the past have been broached on the subject, but none has been receptive, as they suspect a plot to break up the bi-partisan (Republican and Democratic) Economy Bloc by an injection of partisan politics.

Mr. Garland, a Democrat, was elected Speaker by a coalition of Democrats and Republicans, who opposed Governor Olson's spending and tax policies. And despite all the monkey-business, there's every indication that he will be re-elected in January by the same group.

The special session of the legislature, which will probably convene about Sept. 18 to meet a shortage in relief funds, will be either a one-day, or two-day session, it is indicated.

An amount of $1,400,000 is said to have been agreed upon by both the SRA and the auditing sub-committee of the joint legislative committee on relief to meet the emergency.

The legislators, however, will probably stay on in Sacramento for the state conventions of the Republican and Democratic parties—and also for the scheduled appearance of Wendell Willkie, the GOP presidential nominee.

And strangely e n o u g h, there are just as many Democratic legislators planning to stay over for Willkie's appearance, as Republican. The boys in polities can't stay away from a political meeting even if it's a meeting of the opposition.

Miss Doris Smith enjoyed a visit here Monday with her mother, Mrs. W. B. Smith and family. Miss Smith is training for the nursing profession at St. Mary's hospital in San Francisco.

During the summer, Gussie Hintz attended special music classes at San Jose State college; while Mr. Concannon attended the University of Southern California at Los Angeles where he completed necessary work for the advanced degree of Master of Science in education.

Local Chamber Resumes Meetings

The first meeting of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce after the summer recess, was held Monday noon at the Waltrip cafe, presided over by Martin Walsh in the absence of President J. M. Dahl.

Problems which have faced the community for several years and have been seriously considered at varied intervals are again before the chamber for discussion.

David Rutherford reported for his committee on income and expense of places somewhat similar in size to Campbell, t hat are incorporated. These investigations are underway in consideration of incorporation.

At present, the chief need of the community is more police protection, which can be secured by formation of a police district similar to our present fire and lighting districts, or by incorporation, when all of these services would be centralized.

The matter of house delivery of mail under the urban classification was brought up and Postmaster Ira Grim was apointed to ascertain the necessary requirements, and whether Campbell could qualify for this service.

New Road Started Near Campbell

A project which has been under way for over a year is now completed and ready for work to begin later, i. e. the extension of Latimer avenue east through as far as North First street.

Right of way has been secured and deeds signed so that after crops are harvested the way is clear for work which of course awaits action of the county board. of supervisors.

The new road follows property lines, and with the rapid development of Campbell it is expected that the orchard properties will eventually be subdivided and North First and North Second extended to intersect it.

DAUGHTER BORN TO MR. and MRS. WILLIS

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Willis are welcoming a daughter, Esther Louise, born on August 30.

Mrs. Willis is at the home of her mother, Mrs. Walter B. Smith, but will leave soon for a new home in San Francisco. Mr. Willis was transferred some weeks ago from the Bank of America in Los Gatos to the auditing department with headquarters in the city.

Work Starts Soon Campbell Cut-off

C. P. Cooley, county supervisor of district 5 stated yesterday that work on the Campbell "cut-off" between here and Los Gatos, would begin some time this fall, he hoped.

The new road will follow the railroad to Sewall Brown's packing plant near Vasona, thus shortening the route and cutting out the curve at the "Big Boy" corner where numerous accidents have occurred.

Rights of way have been practically secured and the work will be done by contract.

Kiwanians Trek To Gilroy Tuesday

Fifteen members of the Campbell Kiwanis club trekked to Gilroy Tuesday evening to form part of a conclave of some 125 who gathered to elect a new lieutenant governor for division 12. The choice fell upon Raymond W. Fisher, principal of the Los Gatos grammar school.

Next Tuesday the local club will observe its last of the summer's ladies' nights. I. R. Abbott will conduct the ceremonies, and the program will be moving pictures of the Sierra playgrounds, presented by the P. G. & E.
